

At Reach we believe in the potential of every child and we know that each child is unique. We work together with families to recognize each child's strengths and develop their abilities.

Referrals to Reach may come from you, the parent or caregiver, or from other sources such as doctors, public health nurses, school personnel, or other community professionals. Services are available in Delta, Surrey, and Langley. For more information about referrals contact us at 604-946-6622 or info@reachdevelopment.org.

Every child can reach their potential

Reach Child and Youth Development Society is a non-profit child development centre that has been working with children and families since 1959. Our programs and services are designed to meet a wide range of needs for children from birth to age 19, so that children at any age or stage of development have the opportunity to reach their full potential.

Infant Development Program providing in-home assessment and support for children from birth to age 3.

Reach ABA Program a highly structured, skill-building intervention program that uses Applied Behavioural Analysis principles to teach children with autism spectrum disorder the functional skills they need.

“Our programs and services are designed to meet a wide range of needs”

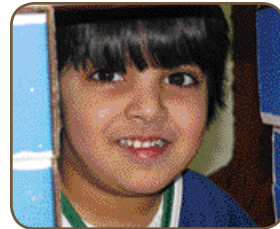

Reach Developmental Preschool in South and North Delta provide inclusive settings for both children with typically developing needs, and children who require extra supports.

Supported Child Development providing consultative support to child care settings for children from birth to age 19 with special needs.

Aboriginal Supported Child Development providing consultative support to child care settings for children from birth to age 19 with special needs. ASCD programs are developed with cultural values, beliefs and traditions in mind.

Therapies Program providing speech and language therapy, occupational therapy, and physiotherapy for children from birth to age 6.

Delta Connex, providing support to families in Delta with children birth to 19 who have developmental or behavioural conditions.

Believing in potential

Each year over 800 children benefit from programs and services at Reach Child and Youth Development Society. Our family-centered, individualized, and responsive approach means that families experience success and each child is given the opportunity to reach their potential.

Family Centered Our family-centered philosophy recognizes that the family is the major decision maker and constant in the child's life and as such, we believe families should be in control and informed. We believe, that the primary aim of good service planning is to enable and empower families.

Individualized We recognize and respect the diversity and uniqueness of families and children and provide individualized approaches to goal identification and service planning.

Responsive We believe that it is essential that services be flexible to meet the changing needs of children and families, and to respond to input from the community regarding those needs.

Experts in our field We have brought together professionals with expertise and knowledge in a variety of areas including Early Childhood Educators, Speech Language Pathologists, Behavioural Consultants, Supported Child Development Consultants, Occupational Therapists, Infant Development Consultants, and others with extensive experience supporting families and children.

Our mission is to

- provide early and timely intervention for children with special needs in a family-centered manner
- provide choices and ongoing support to children and families
- facilitate and support the full integration of all children into our community
- exist as a quality community resource for the optimal development of children from infancy onwards
